Civil Air Patrol

October – December 2022

Cadet Programs

On 17 December, Civil Air Patrol units across the nation participated in the annual Wreaths Across America ceremony. Fort Leonard Wood Composite Squadron assisted in placing wreaths at the Post Cemetery where nearly 700 honored interred are laid to rest. Wentzville Composite Squadron was able to place over 600 wreaths on graves in cemeteries in the Wentzville, Wright City, and Defiance areas. Also participating this year were Trail of Tears Flight, Lee's Summit Composite Squadron, Laclede County Composite Squadron, Platte Valley Composite Squadron, Excelsior Springs Flight, Harry S. Truman Composite Squadron, Table Rock Lake Composite Squadron, Springfield Regional Composite Squadron, and Col Travis Hoover Composite Squadron. More than 2.7 million wreaths were laid at over 3,700 veterans' cemeteries and monuments nationwide.

The 2023 Missouri Wing Cadet Competition will be held 10-12 February 2023 at the Ike Skelton Training Site in Jefferson City, Missouri. The cost is $45 per competitor ($270 total for a team of 6) and $25 per senior member escort. MOWG Cadet Programs will not be providing funding for fuel or other items for the competition. Please register and find out more details at the link provided. 2023 MOWG Cadet Competition

Emergency Services

Team Tripp from Missouri Search and Rescue K9 (MOSAR) was able to fly with members from Lee's Summit Composite Squadron in mid-December. Practice flights are used to train the dogs so that they are ready to be deployed on actual searches in the future. MOSAR is a nonprofit organization that utilizes specially trained dogs to find missing persons and save lives. Like Civil Air Patrol, MOSAR works closely with law enforcement, fire departments, and emergency response agencies. Missouri Search and Rescue K9

Members from Fort Leonard Wood Composite Squadron, Gateway Senior Squadron, Trail of Tears Composite Squadron, and Harry S. Truman Composite Squadron participated in a search and rescue mission alongside the National Park Service to find a missing hunter in Southeast Missouri. These units provided aircrews, ground teams and a small sUAS team. The hunter was ultimately located, but unfortunately did not survive. Body of missing Sikeston hunter found Wednesday

Aerospace Education

Missouri Wing's Aerospace STEM Academy completed its first annual field trip to The Space Museum in Bonne Terre, MO on 10 December. Several cadets from throughout the wing toured the museum and truly impressed the museum staff on their knowledge and level of respect displayed. The Space Museum offers exhibits of early space exploration, artifacts, a shuttle theater, and photo gallery. The Space Museum

Gateway Senior Squadron recently hosted students from the Hancock High Schools Aerospace 101 class for aviation related demonstrations, displays and informative talks. A small sUAS demo was conducted by 2d Lt Ben Creen. A static display of the unit's C182 959CP was offered which allowed the students to sit in the cockpit and view the flight controls. The class also toured the police helicopter operations, two Army Blackhawk helicopters, the control tower, and Wings of Hope.

Save the Date!

The Missouri Wing Conference will be held on 24-26 March at The Lodge of the Four Seasons in Lake Ozark, MO. In addition to the many break-out sessions, banquet, and awards, there will be a Wing Change of Command! More details and registration will be made available soon.

SPOTLIGHT NEWS!

Missouri Wing partnered with McCall's Candles out of Tipton, MO to offer a fundraising opportunity for the Wing. 10 units participated with a total of 713 candles being sold. Over $3,000 was disbursed to the participating units with the remainder contributed towards the Missouri Wing Conference.

Congratulations and appreciation go to Wentzville Composite Squadron for being the top selling unit as they managed to sell 151 candles. A special thank you goes to C/CMSgt Betty Johnson from Lake Ozark Regional Composite Squadron who managed to sell 61 candles. Excellent work!

Missouri Wing does plan on continuing with this fundraiser next year.

Members of Lake Ozark Regional Composite Squadron volunteered at the Special Learning Center Trunk-or-Treat in Jefferson City, MO on 29 October. Over 150 SLC children and alumni participated in this event with volunteers hosting trunks outdoors. Many attendees and volunteers were dressed in Halloween costumes.

The Special Learning Center provides services for children with developmental delays offering daycare services, various therapies, and clinical assessments.
